OUR MEETING AT SOKA UNIVERSITY

We had a really good meeting and tour of SOKA. The cafeteria was ready with a grand buffet and had several choices of goodies for our breakfast. Somebody mentioned we should have taken Wally along but then why?

Wendy W. Harder, Director of Community Relations, then took us on a the tour. We went into the academic wing and saw what classrooms are like and then into a big meeting hall where the seats and desks are elevated and where the Freshmen class can meet and shown how chairs at the desks swing in and out and turn so people can get into and out of easily. The desk top also has a computer terminal for each place and there were microphones located throughout so people could ask questions without having to shout.

We got to see the typical dorm room and how each floor has a living room where people can meet and talk and study. The rumpus room was downstairs next to the laundry. What a way to live.

Some of us then stayed on to see the activity area. (Gymnasium, swimming pool, handball courts, and overlooking the track and soccer field. We then went to Founders hall and saw the Art Gallery and offices. What a great tour!

CLASSIFICATION TALK BY RANDY JOHNSON...

Locksmith Extraordinaire is the best way to describe Randy as he unlocked his bag of tricks of the trade in showing us the variety of locks and the problems they solve.

The weight of some of the locks surprised us as did the combinations created by the locking industry to combat the criminal minds.

Randy, in his career, has trained 14 Locksmiths as well as managed up to six Locksmiths.

The tools of his trade are very valuable (like diamonds) and he has been targeted by thieves so he no longer advertises on his vehicle as he has had two trucks stolen in the past by crooks who sell its contents to burglars. He also gave us a household hint on L;ubricating keys for easy insertion...use Tri-Flo lubricant (available at hardware

FAMILY OF ROTARY REPORT

Bob Blohm
Fr Brian Cooper
Rick Murray
Dr Keith Jewel

It was good to have both Bob Bloom and Rick Murray in attendance at the Tuesday, September 27, meeting after each having to take time to deal with medical problems.

"I'm still hanging in there" was Rick's comment. By coincidence, it was the same message that Keith Jewel asked Bob Bridges to pass on to the Club during a recent phone conversation.

Dr. Keith Jewel was 1988-89 club president and retired with his wife, Rita, to central California in the 1990's. Rita passed away two and a half years ago and Keith now resides in a retirement home, The Palms, located in Roseville, California. He enjoys the fact that his four children and their families all reside in central California.

Keith continues to be interested in the Door of Faith orphanage. Its support as a major activity for him during his years with our club and earlier with the Woodland Hills club.

He enjoys talking about Rotary, its members and its activities. His phone number is 916-783-6278.

George Cooper reports that his son, Fr. Brian Cooper, has been released from the hospital in Columbia and is now in Chicago for a series of tests to determine more about the infection that hit him so hard. His return was kept a secret from George's wife, Margaret, who went to Chicago to visit other family members and had a happy surprise when Brian greeted her.
